

SAAR PACT IS SIGNED MONDAY

AUTHORITIES SIFT CONFUSED STORIES IN TULSA KILLING

SON OF FEDERAL JUDGE SURRENDERS; UNBELIEV- ABLE TALES REPORTED

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 3.—(P)—Holly Anderson, county attorney, today asked Dr. Felix M. Adams, superintendent of the Eastern Oklahoma Hospital for the insane, to come here tomorrow and question Phil Kennamer, son of a federal judge, who is accused of the slaying of John Correll.

Dr. Adams was reached at Oklahoma City by telephone and said he would stop here tomorrow en route to Vineta, where the hospital is located, to view young Kennamer and observe his reactions with a view of establishing his mental competency.

Anderson probably will invite Dr. Ned Smith, Tulsa specialist in cases of nervous disorder, to sit in with Dr. Adams.

The decision to have the specialists question Kennamer came a few minutes after the latter was arraigned for the fatal shooting of Correll, 22-year-old son of a Tulsa physician, Thanksgiving night.

Anderson also asserted emphatically that he never had told anyone he believed Kennamer and Correll had been fellow members of a band of well-to-do young hoodlums who planned robbery and extortion for "thrill" or for any other reason.

"If that sort of story is being circulated," said Anderson, "it is an outrageous lie, and certainly is an arranged attack on the dead boy."

The nineteen-year-old son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer did not speak during the proceedings. His attorney, Flint Moss, waived the reading of the information that accused the youth of slaying John Correll, 23, a dental student, and pleaded "not guilty" for him.

He was arraigned before Pleasant John Woodard in a small room that overflowed with curious. Some of the women and girls in the crowd were brought to the door of the court arcade in hysterical sobs.

The proceeding, lasted a minute and young Kennamer was hustled through the crowd by two deputies to go back to the matron's room in the barred court house floor of the county court house.

MANY PRIVATE APPEALS MADE FOR MOTHER CONDEMNED TO DIE FOR "MERCY SLAYING" OF SON

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(P)—The home secretary's office informed George Lansbury, labor leader, today that Mrs. Mary Brownhill, the 62-year-old mother condemned to die for the "mercy slaying" of her imbecile son will be reprieved.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(P)—Many private appeals were made today for clemency for a 62-year-old mother, condemned to death for the "mercy slaying" of her imbecile son.

Mrs. May Brownhill, a frail woman of Leeds, received the sentence because she gave her son, Dennis, 100 sedative tablets and gas.

Her daughter was that she had nursed Dennis for 50 years and killed him only when she learned she would have to undergo an operation which might cost her life, thus leaving him without attention. The jury recommended mercy but the judge carried out the strict British law.

George Bernard Shaw, commenting on the case, asserted: "Personally I would say there is a very great number of people enjoying this existence for whom I would be in favor of a painless death."

A leader in the campaign to save Mrs. Brownhill from death is George Lansbury, labor leader in the house of commons, who said "I most fervently hope that the home secretary (Sir John Gilmour) without any delay will recommend that his majesty grant a free pardon."

Mrs. Brownhill's attorney plans to apply to Sir John for a reprieve. Many persons in England, Scotland and Ireland have sent messages of sympathy to Mrs. Brownhill.

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND DISTRICT LEGION CONVENTION

AUXILIARY SIXTH DISTRICT ALSO HELD SESSION DURING WEEK-END

Approximately 150 representatives from eight posts attended the two-day sessions of the sixth district American Legion and Auxiliary convention in Corsicana Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

The principal meeting was held in the court house Sunday morning, at which time addresses were made by State Department Adjutant Fred E. Young, of Amarillo; Fred Rousseau, commander second division of Houston, and Miss Mary Kennedy, Auxiliary division vice-president of Houston.

The sixth district is composed of eight counties, including Navarro, Ellis, Hill, Limestone, Freestone, Leon, Brazos and Robertson. Delegates were registered from American Legion posts in Groesbeck, Bryan, Ennis, Corsicana, Waxahatchie, Coolidge, Mexia and Teague.

The convention opened at four o'clock Saturday afternoon with registrations in the lobbies of the Navarro and Commercial hotels, and was followed by a parade of the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22 drum and bugle corps in the business district at five o'clock.

At 7:30 the visiting and local members of the legion and auxiliary attended a dance at the Lyman Davis roof-garden, with music by the Rhythm Revelers.

Pupils of the Rose Sizemore school of elocution and expression presented an interesting floor-show during the dance.

General Session.

The Sunday morning general session was held in the Navarro county court room, with district committeemen, Andrew G. Steele in charge.

Colors were advanced, and one verse of "America" was sung. The session was presided over by Steele.

STALIN PAYS HIS TRIBUTE MONDAY TO ASSASSINATED AIDE

POSSIBILITY OF EXTERNAL PLOT HINTED IN THE
DEATH OF KIROFF

LENINGRAD, U. S. S. R., Dec. 3.—(P)—Joseph Stalin, leader of the communist party, arrived in Leningrad today to pay his respects at the bier of Sergei Kiroff, one of his associates who was assassinated Saturday.

He was accompanied by Vyacheslav Molotov, president of the council of commissars, and other officials.

The possibility that an external plot was behind Kiroff's death appeared dispelled by an official announcement that the assassin is a Russian and former communist.

Kiroff, member of the political bureau of the communist party and secretary of the party's central committee, important posts, was shot to death in the Soviet building here Saturday.

A government communiqué said the assassin was Leonid Nicollet, 30, formerly employed by the staff.

Until this is done, the high court refused to decide a case brought by the Indiana Farmers' Union, which the coroner said was written by Dr. Miller, telling of his intent to slay his wife and himself.

Dr. Miller had practiced medicine here for a quarter of a century. Friends said that he had been in ill health and in financial straits recently.

HEMET, Cal., Dec. 3.—(P)—An apparent murder and suicide which took the lives of a prominent couple here, and the setting of their residence afire, apparently to conceal the tragedy, was reported today by Coroner Ben F. White. The victims were Dr. H. O. Miller, 66, and his wife.

Firemen, summoned by a passer-by, extricated the bodies, and retrieved the bodies, which the coroner said was written by Dr. Miller, telling of his intent to slay his wife and himself.

CORSICANA CREW HAMMERED HEAVY TEAM SCORE 18-7 RUNNING AND PASSING AT- TACK CLICKED AFTER TEAGUE SCORED

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor.

TEAGUE, Dec. 1.—Corsicana 1. O. O. F. Home Lynx football eleven advanced to the regional play
in the class B circles of the University of Texas Interscholastic league here Friday night when they hammered charged, passed and ran the heavier Teague Lions into submission to the tune of 18-7, in an exciting and spectacular battle between two primed teams. This was the second time this season
the Odd Fellows have won over the Lions by a couple of touchdowns as they won a practice
tiff earlier in the season, 12-0.

With this victory, the proteges of Chesty Payne will meet the winner of the Brenham-Bryan tiff, the regional honor being more than the game was expected Friday, Teague fans and supporters started working toward getting the regional title for the local gridiron.

Had Advantage.
The Lions were badly outclassed
in the second half while the Odd Fellows had a slight advantage during the first half. Early in the third period, the Lions rallied and maintained their strength in a crushing, unstoppable drive that carried the ball from their own territory over for a touchdown.
Lancaster, outstanding class B ball lugger, carried the brunt of the attack, his huge, charging drive, howling over the lighter Odd Fellows forward wall consistently.

The Teague stands went wild when Lancaster drove over the line for the touchdown and the odd Fellows were again in a tight spot. The Lions, however, did not let the touchdown go for Teague, but the fighting, slashing, and the Odd Fellows were aroused.
They rose to super heights, at with stout hearts and flaming spirits, came back with all the fury of demon slayers, blocked, stopped, and stepped and drove back the fighting Lions, ripped gaping holes in that big Teague
forward wall, and circled ends,
passed, and otherwise bothered
the Freestones until eleven.

Teague Baffled.
The Odd Fellows' supporters
were chanting and shouting encouragement to those noble bat-tlers on the field, and C. Miller and others moved like demons against the end and completely baffled the opposition.

C. Miller, Edmondson, Stanley, and R. Miller looked like the professional "million dollars" and they were spectacular.

But the praise for the stunning and startling victory must go to those stalwarts in the Odd Fellows line who were on the receiving end of some of the hardest drives the writer has seen in this season. It was those seven line fellows in the line that came out of the mire and dirt to grab
an armful of legs of the seven-stopping Lions; it was those seven fighters who brushed aside their opponents in many instances, outweighed them 20 pounds to leave openings for Edmondson, Stanley and C. Miller to dash for consistent gains, and it was the Odd Fellows line that ruled the aerial circus planned for the special benefit of the Odd Fellows.

Lions Played Well.
Teague played a fine game of football. The "b" was hammering and fighting. No criticism can be made of the Teague defense.
The team is a powerful unit, with plenty of reserve power, but the Freestone county boys were opposed by perhaps the greatest football team in Texas and the Teague boys were out-manned by one of the best quarterbacks in the county in C. Miller, who can do everything with a football that anyone else can; and they were opposed by a "scraping" line that charged with a ferocious and an explosive effect;
seven boys who have never known defeat, and who thrive better on rougher the going gets. Seven stalwarts whose nerve, ability,
and determination to win is evident in their game, and knowledge of the game, would bring smiles of approbation from any coach in the country.

Victory March.
It was a beautiful sight to behold as the Odd Fellows started to victory. Smiles and grins of triumph wreathed the faces of the Odd Fellows. Cheers, exclamations and fringed commands were heard from the line-backers and the end men. The crowd on the sides of the field was in a fervor, but the end was in sight,
and the Odd Fellows were on the way.

The Odd Fellows threatened to score early in the first period.
Taking the ball on their own 35-yard line, the Lions ran and passed to the Teague 11-yard line
where the Lions stopped the drive. Stanley made a couple of yards to the 3-yard stripe and then the drive was stopped.
Neither team threatened to score in the second stanza, the Lions consistently breaking up the intricate pass attack of the Lynx.

Lions Score First.
Taking the ball near mid-field
after an exchange of punts early in the third period, the Lions powerhoused down the field for a touchdown and Parrish added
the point after a perfect placement. The chance for this score had been provided by Lamberth who intercepted a forward pass and ran the ball back to the middle of the field before he was pulled down. This was the only score made on the Odd Fellows this season.

Back came the Odd Fellows!
They slashed and drove through

DECEMBER EXPECTED TO BE BANNER MONTH LOCAL POST OFFICE

Local postoffice officials expect a banner month in business during December, assumed from the steady increase of receipts the past 11 months, and are preparing for heavy traffic through the mail. A net increase of 15 per cent is registered for the 11 months of 1934, compared with those of 1933, in contrast with some savings realized in lights,
fuel, water, laundry, clerical hire,
etc.

Improved roads have enabled
the consolidation of rural routes;
one rural carrier being dropped as the consolidation of city routes has enabled the department to drop one carrier, beginning his pension also;
both after continued and efficient service for 30 years.

The work of one clerk who resigned has been spread among other clerks, without impairing the service, and other economies have been made. The postoffice management expresses sincere appreciation for the happy spirit of cooperation given by both employees
and the public.

But the new law is to expedite
the handling of all holiday mail,
and the public will render the postoffice workers real help by mailing packages early. This will enable the postoffice to insure delivery before Christmas. Gift packages can be marked "To Be Opened Christmas."

The use of air mail at 6 cents,
with overnight delivery to Chicago, Kansas City, El Paso, Los Angeles and all intermediate points,
and one-day delivery to Atlanta,
Washington, New York City, and all intermediate points, has made the postoffice a more popular place.

Every department of the postoffice is rapidly getting its old vigor, salary increases are promised, and each employee is encouraged to do his best. The postoffice will serve the public with increased energy, and begs the public's cooperation during the holidays, to the end that the best of mail service may be returned by them.

Winning Touchdown.
On the first play of the fourth

The game, but a pass for point was

As the game waned, Teague fought savagely, while the Odd Fellows kept possession of the ball as much as possible, waiting for the whistle to end the game.
This is the first time in the history of the local institution that the Lynx have survived this district competition. There have been several district titles won by the local school, but the light-weights have always been overpowered in bi-district.

Teague has the best team in the history of that high school.
The Lions rank above the average class B district champions,
and deserve a better fate than being pitted against a club of the class of the Lynx, one of the outstanding if not the best B teams in the state.

GOVERNOR SIGNED BILL FOR NECHES RIVER BRIDGE

SIGNATURE TO BILL CULMI- NATED SEVEN-YEAR BEAU- MONT-PORT ARTHUR FIGHT

AUSTIN, Nov. 30.—(P)—Governor
Miriam A. Ferguson today signed a bill to provide a method for construction of a free bridge over the Neches river connecting Port Arthur and Orange.

The law authorized Jefferson county to call a bond election
within 45 days to vote on issuance of $750,000 bonds to aid in financing the structure and authorized the acceptance of a public works administration grant of $650,000. The highway commission was authorized to contribute the remainder of the cost, $750,000.

"I am doubtful if this is good legislation," the governor stated in her letter of transmittal to the secretary of state.

Signature of the bill culminated
a seven-year controversy between Beaumont and Port Arthur over proposed construction of a bridge over the Neches river. The river is the artery of traffic for the port of Beaumont, and Beaumont interests opposed the bridge on the contention it would interfere with shipping.

The bridge would be 176 feet above water, a compromise agreed to by Beaumont representatives as sufficient clearance to permit the free passage of large vessels.

W. E. Lea of Orange, who lobbied the bill through the legislature; Representative H. L. Mc-Kee of Port Arthur and Allan University, senator-elect from the Beaumont district, witnessed the signature of the legislation. The pen used by Governor Ferguson
will be presented to H. O. Mills, county commissioner for the Port Arthur district.

Construction of the span would shorten the distance between Port Arthur and the Louisiana line by 25 miles. The bridge is on a proposed transcontinental highway.
Traffic now is served by a ferry.
Lea estimated traffic over the highway would double with completion of the bridge.

The opinion was written by Circuit Judge Orle L. Phillips of Denver and concurred in by Circuit Judge Sam G. Bratton, Albuquerque, N. M., and Federal District Judge John C. Pollock of Kansas City, Kas.

DENVER, Nov. 30.—(P)—The conviction of Harvey Bailey as a kidnaper of the Lindberghs, Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire, was upheld today by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Bailey is now confined in Alcatraz prison in San Francisco bay.

The decision upheld the conviction obtained in a spectacular
trial in Oklahoma City in 1933
in which the prosecution of Bal-
ey, George Joseph Gun, Albert Bates and their associates, was directed by Joseph B. Keane, assistant attorney-general.

Urschel, for whose release $200,- 000 ransom was paid, identified Bailey as the kidnaper of his wife and child, who he said he had helped hide where he was held incommunicado for several months.
Bailey was sentenced to life imprisonment. A similar sentence was given Kelly and Bates and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon, on whose farm near Paradise, Tex., Urschel was held captive nine days.

Kelly's wife also was convicted in connection with the kidnapping
as well as Barney Berman and Clifford Skelly of Minneapolis
and the Shannon's son, Armon.

Bailey was charged with abducting Urschel, who was abducted
from his home in Oklahoma City on July 22, 1933.

Lead Prison Break.
Bailey, the leader of a prison break at McAlester, Okla., in 1932, and he also was indicted
in connection with the Kansas City union station slayings.

His appeal of his conviction imposed by Federal District Judge Edgar S. Vaughn, on the ground the sentence was "cruel and unusual."

Of this the circuit court said:
"Where the sentence imposed is within the limits prescribed by statutes for the offense committed it ordinarily will not be regarded as cruel and unusual."

Kidnaping is a heinous offense.
A sentence to life imprisonment
for the kidnapping of a victim
in interstate commerce or for conspiracy to transport a kidnaped person is not in our opinion
cruel and unusual within the constitutional inhibition.

The Urschel gang was convicted under the federal so-called Lindbergh kidnap law.

The A. K. of L. estimated that 10,671,000 persons were without work in industry last month,
compared with 10,122,000 a year before.

Those who planned to discuss relief today or Saturday with President Roosevelt at Warm Springs include Harry Hopkins,
secretary of the Federal Reserve Board; Charles C. McGowan, secretary of the Federal Reserve Board;
and R. G. Tugwell, secretary of agriculture. The meeting was called one of the most important of pre-congress assemblies.

Green thought the increase in unemployment was due partly to
"the fact that the effort to increase employment in industry is not so general as it was at this time last year," coupled with a one per cent decline in business activity.

"The serious implications of this increase in unemployment cannot be over-emphasized," he said. "Relief need this winter is already higher than it was last year. Reports from the urban areas show that in October, 1934, the number on relief rolls was 30 per cent greater than in October, 1933."

He said latest available figures,
August, showed relief obligations had more than doubled
over August a year ago, jumping from $149,426,000 to $61,470,000.
Green also said trade union figures showed a greater increase in unemployment from October to November this year than last.

Federal Court Upheld Conviction Of Harvey Bailey

MOTIVE FOR TORCH DEATH OF PRETTY CO-ED IS SOUGHT

DENTON, Nov. 30.—(P)—A motive for the flaming death of Miss Helen Gardner, 18-year-old attractive co-ed of North Texas State Teachers College, fatally killed at her rooming house here yesterday, was sought by a coroner today.

The Wichita Falls student,
screaming in agony, was found in the doorway of her locked bedroom. Blazing towels, apparently drenched with highly inflammable
fluid, covered her nude body.

Friends who rushed to the bathroom battered open the door and rescued the girl from the flames.
They said the towels apparently had been spread over her entire body and then ignited.

Hospital attendants discovered cuts on her wrists, apparently inflicted by a sharp instrument. The cuts were not deep enough to prove fatal. For hours the girl lingered near death and finally died last night.

Miss Gardner was reported to have left six notes, one of which was addressed to her mother.
Judge Gambill, county attorney,
said reporters that he saw one of the notes but refused to reveal its contents.

Coroner W. A. Mathews was expected to conduct an inquest this morning. Mathews was out of town for the nation's week-end
day, and County Attorney Gambill said if he had not returned by 9
a. m. he would call in a coroner
from a neighboring city to hold the inquest.

The girl's distraught mother,
Mrs. W. W. Gardner of Wichita Falls, and a younger brother and sister, arrived here before her death.

Several students living at the house were away for holiday visits
to their homes and Mrs. M. C.
Henry, at whose home she lived,
heard the screaming and rushed
out to find the girl in the bathroom. She lost consciousness soon after being rushed to a hospital.

Funeral arrangements were pending.

DENTON, Nov. 30.—(P)—The flaming death of Miss Helen Gardner, attractive brunette co-ed of North Texas State Teachers College, was described today
as a case of suicide.

Coroner Sidney Seagraves
found in his official verdict that the 18-year-old Wichita Falls girl had lain down in a bathtub at her home, and had set fire to blazing her wrists and binding herself hand and foot with a rope, had ignited towels and newspapers with which she had covered herself. The coroner said the towels and newspapers had been soaked with rubbing alcohol.

A note the girl left in a typewriter in the bedroom adjoining the bathroom told of her loneliness and of her despair. It was one of them addressed to her mother, Mrs. H. W. Gardner of Wichita Falls. It was delivered to the mother and the other five letters, addressed to Miss Gardner's relatives, were burned without having been opened.

Miss Gardner was a brilliant student in college, where she was in her junior year. Friends described her as being rather moody at times, but they said her death in such a manner came as a complete surprise to them.

First reports were to the effect that her body was unclothed when she was found. The girl was found lying on the floor of the bathroom, and investigation showed that she had worn pajamas and a robe,
which were almost destroyed.
Screams of the girl attracted Mrs.
Henry to the bathroom. The girl died last night in hospital.

The Thanksgiving Day tragedy occurred while most of the college's students were home for the holidays.

The girl's mother and a younger brother and sister rushed to Denton before Miss Gardner's death. They accompanied the body home to Wichita Falls last night.

PERSONAL JUDGMENT AGAINST FERGUSON FOR SUM OF $50,000

JUDGE ALSO ANNOUNCES WILL ENTER FORECLOSURE ORDER ON 626-ACRE RANCH

DALLAS, Nov. 30.—(P)—Judge
Robert B. Allen today awarded the Dallas Joint Stock Land Bank
a personal judgment against Former Governor James E. Ferguson and announced from the bench his intentions of entering a foreclosure order on the 626-acre Bell County ranch owned by James E. Ferguson and his wife.

Judge Allen's action followed trial on the merits of the bank's suit to foreclose on the ranch to satisfy the $58,682 unpaid balance of a $40,000 loan made to Ferguson in 1928. Both Ferguson and his wife signed the $40,000 note, as well as the deed of trust on the ranch given to secure the loan.

Only two witnesses appeared at the trial. Ferguson and Grady Smith, auditor of the bank.
Former Senator John Davis, attorney for the Fergusons, gave notice of appeal from Judge Allen's ruling. Pending the appeal,
he said, the bank will not be entitled to offer the ranch for sale. In the event of eventual sale, whatever amount the land brought would be deductible from the personal judgment against Ferguson.

Foreclosure action on the farm
had been sought by the bank since last December but had been prevented under terms of the state moratorium law, recently declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court.

Ferguson contested the foreclosure suit today on the grounds that the mortgage contract was invalid because it involved the sharading of usurious interest.

ADMINISTRATION'S LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM INDICATES AN EARLY DECISION ON FUTURE OF NRA

MRS. SIMS BURIED AT BRYAN THURSDAY WELL KNOWN HERE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(P)—
As the Roosevelt administration's legislative program gradually takes shape, there are signs of a comparatively short session of congress is desired.

Moreover, administration officials apparently intend to ask expeditiously for early and speedy action on legislation that will determine NRA's future. This would be an attempt to remove uncertainty from the minds of business men as to the future of the Birds Blue Eagle will be.

Working on a tentative draft of a permanent NRA, experts under Donald R. Richberg, chairman of the executive council, have made much progress, authoritative sources said.

If present ideas are approved
higher up, the new measure probably will take effect in January.
After the anti-trust laws, so that certain trade agreements may be made legal, others illegal, and still others put under regulation.

2. Grant power to fix minimum wages and maximum hours for each industry and trade.

3. Continue Section A, guaranteeing the right of collective bargaining.

The NRA, under present law, is due to die next June, and the administration would like to see the machinery ready in plenty of time.

The administration's plan will be still further rounded out after conferences this week and next with the National Labor Relations Board and the Federal Reserve
in charge of relief and housing.

Already the administration apparently is committed to a low cost housing program, more expensive than the present one, with further subsidies for homelessness and unemployment insurance.

There have been hints also, that the legislative slate may include lower liquor tariffs, possibly along the line of old age pensions,
and possibly an attempt at a compromise on the soldiers' bonus whereby the certificates of those in need would be cashed.

TWO INTERESTING STUDIES ON CONTROL OF WEALTH OF NATION OUTLINED IN REPORT

HOUE ENGINEERING COMPANY FACES AN INJUNCTION SUIT

GOVERNMENT PROCEEDINGS ALLEGED VIOLATION COL- LECTIVE BARGAINING ACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(P)—
Two studies with a bearing on the much-discussed concentration of control of the nation's wealth
were made available today, plus a warning that a simple "share
the riches" program has its limitations.

The federal deposit insurance corporation made public figures showing that a group of 80,000 out of 50,000,000 depositors in 14,000
banks control two-thirds of the $36,463,763,000 deposited.

Analysts pointed out, however,
that a large proportion of the 800,000 bank depositors undoubtedly are corporations, representing large numbers of stockholders.
The figures themselves did not show how many were corporations and how many individuals.

Attacking the problem of more abundant life for everybody, Dr.
Mordecai Ezekiel, economic adviser to the agriculture department, said last night that in 1929 seventy-one per cent of the nation's families had income of less than $2,500. For a moderately full life, he estimated, $2,500 a year is necessary.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(P)— Injunction proceedings were brought today by the justice department against the Houde Engineering Company, Buffalo, auto parts firm, in an effort to restrain the concern from violating the collective bargaining clause of the recovery act.

The bill of complaint was filed in the federal district court at Buffalo.

The step follows protracted conferences between the national labor relations board and department of justice officials.

The Houde company is alleged to have refused to agree to a majority rule decision of the labor board.

The rule requires that the union
selected by the majority of workers be recognized in collective bargaining.

The government also has asserted that the company has declined to enter into written agreements with workers' representatives covering wage and hour conditions.

The company was cited by the labor board for violation of collective bargaining provisions in September. The case was referred to the justice department but Attorney General Cummings decided no court action should be taken,
expressing the opinion that available evidence was insufficient.

Later additional information
came into the hands of the government and a decision was made to take the case to court.

The bill of complaint was described as setting forth three prayers:

Number 1. That the company must bargain with the United Automobile Workers' Federal Labor Union, Council 1839, exclusively and to endeavor in good faith to reach an agreement with the workers' representatives in the union whenever a demand for such an agreement is made. The union is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Number 2. That the company
conduct its bargaining negotiations with any other union.

Number 3. That the company
should not interfere or attempt to restrain or coerce employees in any way in their (the employees)
bargaining efforts.

The United Auto Workers' Union has selected 12 persons to carry on the transactions with company officers.

THRILLING RESCUE TWENTY-FIVE MEN FROM SINKING SHIP

SIXTY-MILE GALE IN SWEEPS FREIGHTER ONTO MUSKEGON HARBOR BREAKWATER

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 1.—(P)—Twenty-three members of the whaleback freighter Henry Cort's crew reached shore safely this morning, eleven hours after the ship struck the Muskegon harbor breakwater last night in a 60-mile gale.

Making their way to the breakwater, hand over and on a line shot to the freighter by coast guardsmen, the sailors fought their way over a mile of the washed breakwater to shore.

All were exhausted and suffering from exposure. Some had to be assisted to shore, apparently injured.

So far as could be told, only 25 men were on the Cort when it struck.

The rescue of all of them was considered an amazing feat in view of the high seas that were running and the 60-mile gale that was sweeping the coast.

The Cort, plying between Muskegon and Chicago, was carrying a cargo of lumber and other goods. The ship was bound for Chicago when it struck the breakwater.

The only fatality was the drowning of John Dipert, 23 year old coast guardsman who was lost when a small boat was swamped last night while trying to reach the Cort. Dipert was answering his call to life saving duty.

Aiding the efforts of the rescuers, the members of the Cort's crew threw a line to the guardsmen who had made their way to the tip of the breakwater. Then, in improvised breeches buoys, the men reached the shore.

Waiting until the last man was on the breakwater, the men started on the second leg of their perilous journey, across the three-quarter-mile long breakwater, half of which was swept by towering waves.

The exhausted men were lashed together in groups of three, and made their way to shore between waves.

When ashore, they were taken to the Muskegon Dunes State Park.

The men revealed that they were able to keep a fire going on the ship and that they were sustained by coffee and apples.

Partial List of Crew.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 1.—(P)—Charles H. Havill, of Detroit, secretary and treasurer of the Lake Port Shipping and Navigation Co., which owns the wrecked freighter, Henry Cort, reached the scene of the wreck here today and issued a partial list of the officers and crew of the Cort.

The list follows:

Capt. Charlie Cox, Minden City, Mich.

Harry Mathews, 25, Crosswell, Mich., watchman.

August Bratz, 45, Marine City, Mich., chief engineer.

Louis J. Koste, 35, Muskegon, Mich., second engineer.

John Koste, 48, Detroit, fireman, and brother of the captain.

James Taylor, 25, Detroit, wheelman.

William Brady, 46, Deckerville, Mich., deckhand.

Richard Drouillard, 20, River Rouge, deckhand.

John Meyers, 25, Minden City, Mich., deckhand.

Lee Fuery, 23, Minden City, Mich., deckhand.

John Warnings, 25, Minden City, Mich., deckhand.

Tony Greiner, 30, River Rouge, wheelman.

George Gaudreau, 30, River Rouge, deckhand.

Aladore Melndrum, 24, Grand Marais, Mich., officer, brother-in-law of Bratz.

Leo Fehner, 27, Crosswell, Mich., fireman.

Clayton, Atherton, Detroit, fireman.

Harry Sutton, 60, Detroit, cook.

Joseph Cramer, Cleveland, La. Wagner, Buffalo; Russell West, Cleveland; Henry Kratinck, Sheboygan, Wis., and Peter Urban, Port Huron, Mich.

Steel Tug Sinks.

DETROIT, Dec. 1.—(P)—Swept by waves kicked up by a gale that tore over the Lake district, the 25-ton steel tug Lakeville III sank this morning three miles northeast of the Detroit river light in Lake Erie.

Her crew of four men clung to a section of deckling and were washed ashore by wind one mile south of Amherstburg, Ont., at 4:30 a. m.

Shorter Work Week Effective Garment Shops

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(P)—President Roosevelt's order reducing the work week in the cotton garment industry from 40 to 38 hours became effective in 3,000 plants today. The recovery administration hoped 10,000 more would be employed.

It was the first slash in working hours by executive order. With the shorter work week, the industry's 165,000 workers the same weekly wage.

Temporarily exempted from the new working hours were 31 companies which obtained a restraining order from the District of Columbia court. The stay is effective until December 7, when a hearing will be held.

Observance of the executive order at other plants was closely watched by organized labor, the biggest in the field—the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the Ladies International Garment Worker Unions—decried last summer to strike at any plant failing to observe Mr. Roosevelt's order.

Samuel Hillman, NRA board member and head of the Amalgamated has stated, however, that labor expects the industry to abide by the order.

LEGION

Invocation was pronounced by A. M. Hendrix, Roll call by local Adjutant Gorman indicated representatives present from Bryan, Corsicana and Waxahachie, but later in the day the other members of the Corsicana post extended a cordial welcome to the visitors on behalf of the Corsicana legion and auxiliary, and County Judge C. E. McWilliams welcomed them on behalf of the city and county.

Ed J. Martin, past commander of Bryan, was the first speaker, and talked upon the subject of "Community Service." Mr. Martin said unless the American Legion does something it goes by the way, and if it post expects to be successful it must adopt major activities to perform, not only for its own good, but for the good of the community. Mr. Martin declared there is "nothing so successful as success itself," and in order to be successful it must have more members.

At this time Mr. Steele recognized a number of American Legion celebrities, and said he would call upon them later in the meeting.

Auxiliary Speaker.

Miss Kennedy was the next speaker. She extended greetings to the legion and auxiliary of the sixth district, from the state department auxiliary, and complimented the Bryan auxiliary. She said this unit has caught the spirit of the organization, and she hoped all others would be likewise.

"The auxiliary is helpful to the legion, and the men can't get along without our backing," she said. "We are the backbone behind the legion, and does what it asks them to do."

Miss Kennedy declared the auxiliary membership stands for the same thing the legion stands for, and in this connection told incidents of what each has done in the state. Among these were benefits of education secured for "war orphans," the poppy program for student-loan and rehabilitation and hospitalization activities, and others.

Miss Kennedy pointed out that strength of an organization is gotten from large memberships, and said she looks forward to greater numbers in the auxiliary.

At the close of the meeting, wartime nursing activities, and in closing expressed the hope of having stronger organizations during the coming year.

Commander Rousseaux Heard.

Mr. Rousseaux was next introduced. Mr. Rousseaux urged the legion members to stand behind their officers, and asked the membership to work toward a stronger organization, and to do its part for the legion to do this year.

Among the objectives for the coming year, as set out recently by the newly elected national commander, Mr. Rousseaux named the following: "To work for the disabled veterans and their dependents; furtherance of Americanism; payment of adjusted service certificates; foster better national defense; keep out of foreign wars; support the United States; abolition of child labor; properly educate children; realization of equal recognition of ex-service men in government jobs, and several others.

The speaker discussed the building up of membership, and went into details of how the state office and state officers have been working to get the legion to do this year.

Department Adjutant Young was the next speaker, introduced by Mr. Steele.

Address of State Officers.

The first portion of his talk dealt with the work of the state and national officers of the Legion and Auxiliary, and he asked his hearers to bear with him and his co-workers their new and additional duties.

Launching into the second phase of his address, Mr. Young quoted the first four words of the American Legion preamble, "For God and country," and spoke briefly upon the significance of those words. He declared that God's name makes all humble, and that the country is the source of our life, because it is God-given. He said it is therefore true that if a person is untrue to his country he is untrue to God.

"We need faith in God, faith in ourselves, in our organization, and faith in our nation," the speaker declared. He showed that Charles A. Lindbergh had faith in himself the first time he stepped into a cockpit, and an airplane. He said that the nation's faith that Louis Howe, New York newspaperman had in Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Must Have Faith.

"We must have faith in our organization, in its program, the national commander and committee, and in all state officers and committees, who are all working for the same thing, the interests of all members of the Legion and Auxiliary," Mr. Young declared. He also pointed to the need of having faith in one's ability to sell the Legion idea to others in order to strengthen the membership.

The speaker named the four major projects of the Legion for the coming year, and urged his hearers to spread the word of faith in the points. They include the adjusted service certificates, helping widows and orphans of men who were killed or disabled in action, universal service act, and national defense.

Discussing the universal service act, Mr. Young declared the act may be killed if a report of the national investigation committee on munitions is not made as he has attached. He declared that Senator Nye is opposed to adequate national defense, and is under the impression the American Legion is a munitions plant.

The speaker pointed out that capital and organized labor opposed the universal service act. "I am telling you these things in order that you will not be misled, but will keep in working for the passage of the act," Mr. Young declared.

National Defense.

Under the discussion of the fourth major project of national defense, the speaker said the United States ranks seventh among the nations of the world in their preparedness for national defense. He named the following in the order of the United States: Russia, France, Italy, Spain, Japan, Poland, China, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Great Britain, Sweden, Turkey, Greece, Belgium, and Greece, and then the United States.

Mr. Young said he had always

SHAYER ELECTED PRESIDENT TEXAS SCHOOL TEACHERS

SUPERINTENDENT HUNTSVILLE SCHOOLS HONORED AT GALVESTON MEET

GALVESTON, Dec. 1.—(P)—C. N. Shayer, superintendent of public schools at Huntsville, was elected president of the Texas State Teachers' Association today as the fifth annual convention of that organization neared conclusion.

J. J. James, principal of the Ball High school of Galveston, was chosen as first vice president; R. Ward of Edinburg, second vice president, and Knox Kincaid of O'Connell, third vice president.

Shayer was elected to the presidency to replace J. O. Loftin of Kingsville. He was victorious over J. C. Perkins of Houston, and O. A. Fleming, superintendent of public schools at Austin.

Members named to the executive committee were:

Joe Bergin, Greenville, fourth district; R. M. Hawkins, Mexia, re-elected, fifth district; E. L. Bunting, Huntsville, seventh district; E. E. Oberholzer, Houston, eighth district; O. D. Monroe, Fort Worth, twelfth district; E. D. Dodd, Brownsville, thirteenth district; H. W. Morelock, Alpine, sixteenth district, and O. A. Boyles, Amarillo, re-elected, eighteenth district.

Members of other districts in the state were not voted upon, they being holdovers.

No action was taken on the election of secretary-treasurer, a position held by R. T. Ellis of San Antonio, who is secretary of the association, nor on selection of the 1935 convention city.

These matters were left until next meeting of the executive committee, to be held either in January or February of December 6 nearly in January.

San Antonio, however, officially entered its invitation for the association to hold its next convention in that city. There were no other bids.

GALVESTON, Dec. 1.—(P)—Delegates to the Texas State Teachers' Association today cast votes for their presidential choice for 1935, three candidates from South Texas bidding for their votes.

Presidential candidates included C. N. Shayer of Huntsville; O. A. Fleming of Austin; and J. C. Perkins of Houston, one of whom will succeed J. O. Loftin, president of the Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville.

Shayer, principal of the V. Alfred addressed the convention last night on "New Eras in Education Through Legislation." He was followed by Gov. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, who discussed "Public Education," and by J. H. P. Putnam, director of the Bureau of Education, who spoke of "The Children of Tomorrow."

Dr. Edwin A. Lee, superintendent of schools of San Francisco, discussed "Public Problems of the Children of Tomorrow," and Dr. N. D. Bule of Marlin talked on "Basic Community Health Problems for the New Deal."

Speakers in the final session included L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, and Dr. Channing H. Tobias, negro educator and lecturer, who planned discussions of inter-racial problems.

believed that two phases of the American Legion's work; that of caring for disabled veterans and child welfare, were closely related. He said that child welfare is a problem that is not only a child's problem, but that children will be taken care of if the disabled veteran gets proper attention.

"When we get to the point we are not working for a disabled man and his dependents, but we are no longer worthy of holding a charter of the American Legion, and should be forced to tear it up," Mr. Young declared emphatically.

Comments on Auxiliary Work.

He paid a high tribute to Florence Nightingale, the woman who sacrificed her life in order that she might be in a position to help the disabled man and his dependents. In this connection the speaker commented upon the work of the auxiliary.

In conclusion Mr. Young said: "By our unselfish service to our buddies and to our communities in the American Legion we have become the guiding light of American civilization today."

Several visiting Legion and Auxiliary members were present by Mr. Steele at this time, and made short talks. Among them were Mr. Brock of Houston; Col. Tim Powers, Seventh District Committeeman, of Athens; Mrs. William Pappas, Sixth District Committeewoman, of Mexia; and George Hughes, past department adjutant, of Groesbeck.

The morning session adjourned while everyone stood at attention and Johnnie Storrie, Jr., the drum and bugle corps mascot, played taps.

Fidac Explained.

A number of additional representatives had arrived in time for the luncheon at the Lyman Davis roofgarden. The invocation was pronounced by Department Adjutant Young, and a turkey dinner was served.

Mr. W. C. Van Hook, first president of the Corsicana auxiliary, who had charge of the Fidac program.

In a short talk Mr. Van Hook told what is meant by "Fidac" and explained its working. He said that Randolph Mitchell in a piano rendition of a melody of old American and French war songs. The youthful pianist was forced to play an encore number.

Special Program.

Miss Edna Webb was next presented, and gave an interesting discussion of the significance of the flags of the nations comprising the Fidac. The last portion of her talk was the evolution of her talk was tracing it through many steps to the present flag.

Mrs. C. J. Colp was introduced and sang "Mother Macrae," and "My Wild Irish Rose," with Randolph Mitchell playing the accompaniment. The audience joined in singing the chorus of the last number.

L. C. Morgan, Jr., gave a reading, "His Flag."

TULSA KILLING

where he has been held since surrendering Saturday. County Attorney Holly Anderson said young Kennamer admitted he killed Gorrell "because I had to do it."

Room Mate Guarded.

Meanwhile, Richard Oliver, a room mate of the slain youth, was guarded overnight by two detectives at his home here, in left for school this morning in the company of two other detectives.

He was guarded after police said they received threats against his life. Oliver came from Kansas City with a packet of letters addressed to Gorrell and with other information, arriving, frightened, before dawn Saturday to be questioned at some length several hours before Kennamer came in. Oliver said that Kennamer had gotten on the train at another station upon the line and that he had been secreted by the conductor or when informed that he was coming here at the request of the police.

Officers never have revealed the contents of the letters, but Oliver was met at Claremore by Tulsa detectives and tumbled into their arms in flight. The conductor had looked him in a compartment for the train.

Story of Threats.

Dr. John Franklin Gorrell, father of the slain boy, and W. L. Oliver, father of the roommate, denied any knowledge of the threats against the life of the slain boy, but the following story was told by police:

Young Oliver spent Sunday evening away from home and there were three unidentified telephone calls to his home. One of the calls called and when told Oliver was out exclaimed: "Do you mean to tell me he had enough crust to go out tonight?"

The doctor was quoted as saying he had heard from "reliable sources" that they are going to implicate him or kill him.

He did not identify the "they" he referred to.

When seen at the court house during Sunday afternoon Oliver was plainly apprehensive and left there in the company of Floyd J. Huff, Tulsa police officer, who planned to return to Kansas City.

Detectives on Guard.

Officers located him and he was guarded by Detectives Reid and Boyd remained on guard. Detectives Smith and Laimore accompanied Oliver part of the way back to Kansas City this morning.

Henry B. Maddux, police criminologist, who still is working on the case, although the county authorities have taken charge of the prosecution, talked to Miss Virginia Wilcox, 17, daughter of the slain boy, but the following story was told by police:

The Wilcox girl, daughter of one of Tulsa's pioneer and wealthy oil operators had been menaced by a man who had been reported as a kidnaper in Tulsa.

Wilcox said Saturday that he knew of no reason why young Kennamer should "concern himself so greatly in our affairs."

Wilcox said also that neither he nor his family knew of any plot. Maddux declined to discuss his interview with the boy and girl, but said that "nothing is being talked into the girl's mind."

The elder Wilcox went to Chicago by air yesterday and had not returned today.

A special agent said that he has not yet asked department of justice agents to aid in the Gorrell case.

"I don't know just how they could get in at this stage," said Maddux, "unless the kidnapping developments we cannot use them."

Wants Name Cleared.

PITTSBURGH, Kas., Dec. 3.—(P)—Miss Doris Rogers, fiancée of a Tulsa oilman, who was slain Thanksgiving night in Tulsa, returned to her home here last night, expressing a desire only that "John's name be cleared."

Mrs. Vivian Rogers, the girl's mother, shielded her daughter from interviewers, declaring neither was at liberty to discuss what transpired at conferences they held Saturday and Sunday with investigators in Tulsa.

The girl, whose engagement to Gorrell was announced here last May, has been employed in a dental office here. After graduating from Tulsa high school, she was attending the University of Tulsa, where she was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

Mrs. Rogers expressed doubt that there was any truth to a report that young Gorrell had been married to a Miss Ruth Wilcox, who she said had died at childbirth. John, she said, had never mentioned such a chapter in his life. The only photograph found on his body, she said, was one of Doris.

daughter, Miss Ethel Louise Skelton closed the luncheon program with a piano duet arrangement of "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa. After several announcements were made, including the playing of the Star Spangled Banner, the luncheon adjourned.

Sunday afternoon the Legion and Auxiliary had simultaneous business meetings at the court house.

TOUGHEST PROBLEM NOW CONFRONTING ROOSEVELT REGIME

PLANS FOR CONTINUED RELIEF BE DECIDED BEFORE CONGRESS MEETS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—(P)—With advisers pouring conflicting counsel into his ear, President Roosevelt entered today the month in which he will make a decision regarded by official Washington as one of the most momentous ever to face a chief executive.

Whether to call on congress to appropriate more billions—perhaps $3,000,000,000—in a gigantic effort to conquer the relief and unemployment problem, or whether to taper off federal expenditures in the belief that a business revival will do the job—that is the question.

It is an issue that sharply divides the citizenry, the economists, and even—authoritative sources say—the very cabinet itself.

Two of the foremost advocates of the spending-rehabilitation idea, Secretary Harold Ickes, public works administrator, and Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, planned to thresh out their suggestions with the president before the log fireplace at Warm Springs in conferences starting this week-end.

Hopkins-Ickes Plans

Hopkins' plan for a federal work relief corporation, with an appropriation of $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000, would be in favor of government-made jobs and opportunities, as is said to have divided the presidential advisers.

The more "conservative" were described as urging toward reduction of expenditures, with greater emphasis on stimulating private business, possibly by government insurance of loans to speed up the heavy industries.

Ickes, like Hopkins, expressed little confidence in the ability of private industry to solve the employment problem quickly, leaving tomorrow for Warm Springs with a plan to expand the federal work relief program.

Observing that the Hopkins and Ickes' plans as a concerted plan for a total appropriation of $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000, but rather as two different approaches.

The president's recovery and relief. But there was no doubt in most minds that many business and banking leaders and other advocates of a tapering-off process would be found in the opposing camp.

Other Side Presented

Among these men, the contention is that if the government shows determination to apply its power to expedite business, it can go ahead with more confidence and certainty. On the other side, the argument is heard that although the assistance of business is welcome, the government cannot afford to let business take the lead.

The federal emergency relief administration has collected statistics to show that the number of people on relief of all kinds has grown from 13,338,000 in September, 1933, to 15,000,000 last September. More than half were on direct relief—those who are not employed.

Among the FEERA's suggestions these things bulk large:

1. Federal government work, where the unemployed make goods for the destitute.

2. Rural-industrial communities built with relief funds. In them Hopkins hopes to evolve a combination of rural and industrial employment and subsistence farming to provide security for thousands of families now living in crowded cities.

3. More money for rehabilitation loans to the destitute.

One quarter in which Hopkins counts on reducing federal expenditures in the future is the care of "unemployables." An increasing number of the states are urged to take steps to prevent the normal function of sheltering the aged and physically handicapped.

SOVIET PLOT

workers and peace: inspection bureau under whose auspices the unemployed make goods for the destitute.

Nicolleff, the announcement said, has confessed the crime. No intimidation was given as to his motive or present political affiliations.

Flats were placed at half staff throughout the Soviet Union in honor of Kiroff, the third communist leader to be assassinated here since the establishment of Bolshevism and the first in more than 15 years.

The dead leader's body, lying in state in Uritsky Palace, has been viewed by thousands. The funeral will be held Thursday in Moscow where his ashes will be interred under the Kremlin wall, near the tomb of Lenin.

Protest meetings were held by clubs, factories and schools throughout the country and resolutions were adopted urging the government to take steps to reveal enemies of the workers.

A typical resolution, by a tractor factory here, said:

"Brothers and comrades: The proletariat of Leningrad has learned that the Soviet government has destroyed the enemies of the workers' class, the traitors of the party, and the Trotsky and Zinovieff opposition.

"We are under the control that the Russian workers produced our first tractor, and under his control that we raised the production to tens of thousands.

"We will give blow for blow to our enemy, death to the enemies of the working class!"

SAAR PACT

meeting and from personal tribute to the other delegates.

An official communique on the agreement, which was reached through the two nations—respective ambassadors to Rome, said the agreement included not only the financial question of the territory but all other points. It is to be presented Wednesday to the League of Nations council, the body charged with the government of the mining area.

The pact was signed by Count de Chambrun, ambassador of France, and Ambassador Ulrich von Hassell, of Germany.

Official Communique.

The official communique follows:

This morning, the last meeting of the Saar committee of three took place with the ambassadors of France and Germany present. The president of the committee announced that an agreement had been reached between the French government and the German government on all questions which were submitted to the examination of the committee. This agreement was signed by the French and German governments through their respective ambassadors and delegates.

"On Tuesday the committee will meet at Geneva to write a report which will be submitted to the council of the League of Nations on Saturday, December 8th."

"In closing the work of the committee in Rome, Baron Poincaré (of Italy) in the name of the committee thanked the delegates and experts of the French and German governments and above all the financial subcommittee of the League of Nations for the most effective cooperation which they had given."

Conciliation Prevails.

Both French and German circles announced that the agreement had been achieved in a most conciliatory manner but details of the settlement were not immediately announced.

It was learned on good authority, however, that the principal plank in the settlement is that if Germany wins in the January 13 plebiscite she agrees to pay for the Saar coal mines of which the French government is proprietor, by collecting French francs circulating in the Saar, exchanging marks for them, and turning the francs over to France.

The round sum of 800,000,000 francs (approximately $22,000,000) was understood, was agreed upon for this purpose.

The committee was to leave immediately for Geneva to present the agreement to the league's council.

Continues Defense Plans.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—(P)—Despite assurance from Berlin that Germany does not hold warlike intentions, France continued today a program of bolstering her military defenses.

A special period of training for reserve soldiers was announced. Some have been called for duty in January, when the Saar basin territory plebiscite will be held.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, personal representative of Chancellor Hitler in a 40-minute talk yesterday with Pierre Laval, the French foreign minister, attempted to allay fears here of German rearmament.

Insisting that Germany's intentions were misunderstood, the Hitler aide said she simply seeks equality of rights with other nations and not with hostile designs.

Four classes of special frontier reservists have been called upon to take a training course, which may be spread over much of 1935, although usually the reserves are called during the summer months.

Flood Moves Seaward.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 3.—(P)—The crest of an eastern North Carolina flood moved toward the Atlantic today, inundating thousands of acres of lowlands.

As the waters began to recede along the upper reaches of the principal rivers, damage was confined largely to washed-out bridges and roads, which were being repaired rapidly.

courtroom. None of those was a member of his family.

When Edwards informed the court he had nothing to say before sentence was imposed, Judge Valentine tersely sentenced him to die in the Rockwell penitentiary for a term of years to be fixed by the governor.

Edwards was convicted of the murder of Miss McKechnie during a night swimming party because he had killed her in a fit of passion with his plans to marry Margaret Crain.

Chief Defense Counsel Frank McGulgan said the defense was unable to appeal to a higher court because of lack of funds. He declared friends of the Edwards family in Edwardsville, however, had started a move to raise a fund to carry the case to a higher court. A new trial was denied last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, of Richmond, Ill., have been visiting Mr. Graham's uncle, E. L. Green, and other relatives in Corsicana, left Saturday for San Antonio where they will visit for the next two weeks. They left for San Antonio to Phoenix, Ariz., for a visit.

BUSINESS FAIRLY GOOD IN ELEVENTH RESERVE DISTRICT

UNUSUALLY WARM WEATH- DURING MONTH RETARDED RETAILS SALES SOMEWHAT

DALLAS, Dec. 1.—(P)—The federal reserve bank of Dallas said in its monthly business review today that the demand for retail changes in wholesale and retail channels in this district was fairly well sustained during the past month, despite the retarding effects of the unusually warm weather.

The sales of department stores in larger centers reflected a gain of one per cent over those in September and were eight per cent greater than in October a year ago. While the increase over the previous month was considerably less than in normal, the distribution in August and September expanded more rapidly than usual.

Business at whole in most reporting lines reflected a further expansion over the previous month, and was materially above that in October last year. Collections reported by both wholesale and retail firms again showed a noticeable improvement.

Debits to individual accounts at banks in leading cities of the district showed a seasonal gain of ten per cent over the previous month and were 12 per cent larger than in October, 1933.

The agricultural and livestock industries continue to reflect the effects of the unusually dry weather, which remains unbroken in much of the western half of the district. While the November 1 report of the department of agriculture did not change materially the estimated production of principal crops in states attached to this district, low yields indicate the extremely unsatisfactory growing conditions during the current season.

Feed Supplies Scarce.

Of particular importance is the scarcity of feed supplies, which will not only affect adversely the making of 1935 crops but has created a serious problem relative to the carrying of livestock through the winter. This situation has been aggravated by the lack of sufficient grain pastures as the continued drought over a large area of the district has retarded the seeding and growth of small grains.

As range grass in the drought-stricken areas is practically exhausted, livestock must be fed or moved to other areas, while the situation has been partially relieved by the heavy purchases of cattle, calves and sheep by the federal government, a severe winter market condition.

The daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks in this district during October rose to $1,000,000, which compares with $751,500 in September, and $625,000 last year.

Expansion Reflected.

The commercial loans of member banks in selected cities reflected a further expansion between October 10, and November 14, but there was a reduction in their investments. The demand for federal reserve bank credit continued to rise, and the volume of federal reserve notes in actual circulation showed a little change between October 15 and November 15, but the total on the latter date was considerably larger than on the corresponding date last year.

Construction activity in principal cities of this district evidenced a substantial betterment in October. The valuation of building permits issued was 52 per cent above the September valuation and 100 per cent larger than in the corresponding month last year.

MRS. AUBREY MORGAN
DIES IN PASADENA
MONDAY MORNING

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 3.—(P)—Mrs. Aubrey Nell Morgan, 30, daughter of the late Senator Charles A. Lindbergh, died at 2:50 a. m. today in Pasadena Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

The death, which had feared throughout days and nights of constant attendance came swiftly as the young woman's mother and husband stood at her bedside.

Word of her death was immediately communicated to Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh. Plans for the funeral have not been made.

Mrs. Morgan's death came when hospital attendants said it appeared she was unconscious until the end. She was conscious until the end.

Mrs. Morgan was stricken with appendicitis last month as she boarded a liner for a cruise to Mexico. Shortly after the liner was under way, she fell ill. In 10 pneumonia developed, and it was then that her mother, widow of the late ambassador to Mexico, flew from the family home in Englewood, N. J., to the coast.

Her marriage to Morgan, whose home was in Cardiff, Wales, took place Dec. 28, 1932. Last spring they came to Pasadena to live because of her poor health.

Special $1,000
Federal Liquor
Tax Is Upheld

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 3.—(P)—Judge W. I. Grubb in U. S. district court today held the $1,000 special federal excise tax imposed on liquor dealers in dry states constitutional.

The ruling was made in dismissing demurrers filed by attorneys Gus Constantine, cited last week for failure to pay the levy, and the tax was unconstitutional.

Judge Grubb held the levy was a tax and not a penalty as argued by Constantine's counsel.

STEADY BUSINESS
PROGRESS

Business recovery has its setbacks and its seasonal ups and downs, but seems to be proceeding in a rather definite and reassuring pattern. Here are facts gathered by the Associated Press from estimates of leading trade analysts.

When business started down hill from its 1929 pinnacle, the national income—all the income of all of us together—was a trifle over $86,000,000,000 a year. By 1932 it had sunk to $40,000,000,000.

Last year it started up again, and reached a level short of $50,000,000,000. This year, continuing its progress at about the same rate, it promises to reach a total of $58,000,000,000.

The present expectation for next year is about the same rate of acceleration, or better. Another year or two, and we might attain the last boom level. At any rate, we are really doing pretty well, everything considered.

CAPT. FRIED'S NEW JOB

About the best luck that could happen to passengers on disabled ships at sea in recent years was to have Capt. Fried of the American merchant marine somewhere in their vicinity. On Oct. 17, Fried and some of the crew of the liner Washington rescued five men who crashed in an airplane near his ship 600 miles at sea. In January, 1926, Capt. Fried, then master of the President Roosevelt, directed the rescue of 25 men from the British freighter Antiope. In January, 1929, as master of the America, he directed the rescue of 32 men from the Italian freighter Florida. These are typical cases. When there was a rescuing job to be done and Fried was near enough to tackle it, the job was always successful.

This same Capt. George Fried has now been appointed by the President as supervising steamboat inspector at New York. As a result of the Morro Castle disaster and the subsequent investigation, a demand arose for complete reorganization of the inspection service. Now Fried has the job, to the general satisfaction of the public, travelers and non-travelers alike.

The inspection service includes examination of new and old vessels and supervision of crews and their training in fire and other safety drills. It is a big job, but Fried should be equal to it.

WAR DEBT "DUDS"

The State Department recently sent "please remit" notes to 12 debtor nations, evidently thinking it might catch some government off guard and get it to send over something on account by Dec. 15. It was probably a waste of postage, but then you never can tell.

Uncle Sam could use some of that money if he got it, but there are many thoughtful citizens who believe he will never get any of it, and that he would begin to make money in other ways sooner if he "just forgot about those debts for a while."

Everybody "talks about social justice," but nobody is very clear about what it is. According to Plato's definition, justice is simply "having and doing what belongs to you."

MEN ON PARADE

He was be-medalled and be-plumed
And strutting in parade;
Against the drab of life he loomed
And strutted in parade.

A man superbly made,
Garbed in the uniform of power
He did not seem to be
One of the sixty-minute-hour
That comes to you and me.

And yet I wondered when he'd Doffed
That coat of pomp and pride
If in the high his baby coughed
He walked with a stride?

And must he hear rasping throat
So fearfully as I
Or do the medals on his coat
Untroubled let him lie?

Be-plumed, be-medalled, spick
And span,
I wonder as he goes
If like the ordinary man
He meets life's common woes?

RICHBURG ON CO-ERCION

The American wage method is free bargaining on both sides, including freedom of both sides to organize for bargaining purposes. Employing capital has been pretty well organized for some time. Every incorporated company represents organized dollars, and modern industry tends more and more to large aggregations of organized companies. Labor is still much less fully organized, but has made rapid progress under the NRA, although its rules, with all the clarifications of Section 7-A, are still far from clear.

The one really clear thing about it is that labor has a blanket right to organize, and indeed is encouraged to do so. The idea is that with both sides fully organized, there may be industrial justice, order and peace, with consequent prosperity for all.

But labor runs into serious difficulties, partly from the obstruction of grudging employers, and partly from faults on its own side which play into the hands of employers seeking an excuse to deny fair play.

Here is a clear and strong statement on this point, directed at both sides by NRA Director Richberg, and deserving the support of all friends of industrial justice:

"Varying degrees of organizing pressure have been exerted against wage earners, from the more or less gentle persuasion by organizing committees of respectable unions down to the outrageous gun play and slugging of racketeer groups that prey on the worker as remorselessly as any sweatshop employer."

"Thus another serious question is presented: How far should the freedom of labor organization be protected from coercion not only by employer, but by any other organized coercion which may deprive a worker of part of his earnings and practically all his liberty of choice as to the terms and conditions of his employment?"

"This problem is clearly recognized by older established labor unions; but until their right to represent their bona fide members is freely acknowledged by employers, they are hampered in any efforts to destroy the labor racketeer whose most helpful ally is the employer who refuses to deal with an honest union of his employees."

Inasmuch as bankers and public utility men are still opposed to any sort of inflation, it may be assumed that they're in favor of further deflation as the right way to balance things. That means lower interest and utility rates.

Reports from around the circuit are to the effect that the laurels of the Barrymores have not been endangered by the stage performances of the Dean brothers.

Cheer-leading takes on new glories as Senator Long goes in for football in a big way. Future presidencies may be determined by football games.

Following a study of marriage license statistics, Leon Henderson of the NRA says "bachelors are declining." Have they been approached?

Maybe in 1936 we'll be voting, too, for the American Liberty and National Union parties.

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL
STORY

The anti-tuberculosis Christmas Seals this year have a story as well as a purpose. The purpose is the familiar one of raising funds to carry on the fight against tuberculosis by treatment, prevention and education. The Seals are alike all over the country, but the funds collected are administered locally by whatever groups or organizations are at work in any community in this great health crusade.

The story concerns the little house pictured on this year's seals. There was, fifty years ago, just such a house in the Adirondack Mountains at Saranac Lake. It was known as "Little Red" and was built by Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau, founder of the sanitarium movement in the United States. Dr. Trudeau was himself a "victim" of tuberculosis who prolonged his own life by proper treatment and helped many other patients back to health. This physician not only built the first cottage sanitarium, but also established a laboratory for the study of tuberculosis.

The little house in the Christmas Seal picture is therefore a reminder of the 50th anniversary of an idea which has meant restored health for tens of thousands. Buying the Seals provides the money for the fight against tuberculosis. Using them liberally on mail during the Christmas season spreads the information that there is such a fight and that you are helping toward victory.

W. A. BONNER DIED
THURSDAY NIGHT
RESULT INJURIESTHREE OTHERS INJURED IN SAME ACCIDENT REPORT-ED DOING NICELY

W. A. Bonner, 74, of Steward's Mill, Freestone county, died at 8 o'clock Thursday night in the P. and S. Hospital as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident early in the morning, on Highway 70, about four miles south of Corsicana. Three other occupants of the car who were injured were doing nicely Friday at the hospital.

H. A. Houck, 54, Dallas, sustained two fractures of his left leg and was badly bruised early Thanksgiving morning when his automobile collided with a bridge railing near Streetman, after being sideswiped by another machine. His wife and 16-year-old grandson, Harry Houck, who were in the automobile, were uninjured. Houck was given first aid attention at the Navarro Clinic here and was taken to Dallas in a Welland's ambulance later in the morning.

Others injured in the accident that was fatal to Mr. Bonner, were Miss Hazel Bonner, 18, fractured nose; Weldon Bonner, 15, lacerations; and Norman Betts, 25, negro, broken right arm and fractured left pelvis.

It was reported a car had collided with a truck trailer, and when the Bonner car was approaching occupants of the truck signaled them to stop in order to avoid another collision. The driver of the Bonner car thought the signal was a hold-up, and accelerated his speed, and the crash resulted. Five occupants of the machine were brought to the P. and S. Hospital in a Corley ambulance. One of them was uninjured.

Bonner's injuries included a compound fractured left leg between the knee and thigh a broken left wrist and a broken, unbroken arm, and a crushed left cheek bone.

Funeral services will be at one o'clock Saturday afternoon with interment in the Bonner cemetery in the Steward's Mill community. Rev. Walter Simpson, pastor of the Eureka Presbyterian church, will conduct the rites, and Stewart-Burleson Undertakers, will have charge of arrangements.

He is survived by one brother, J. O. Bonner, Mexia; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Thornton, Norman, Okla., and Miss Martha Bonner, also of Norman, Okla., and other relatives.

Denies Charges
Made In Suit

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—(P.)—Mary Pickford, stopping here on her way to California today, denied categorically and emphatically the allegedly scandalous charges made by Edward Hemmer, her former manager and advisor, who is suing her for $250,000 "for services rendered."

"Further denial of the ridiculous charges," she said with feeling, "realize that it is significant that the allegations were not made until many years after my mother, who could refute them easily, had died."

Hemmer, in support of his suit, had charged that he preserved her reputation during her early days in films.

Miss Pickford will take the leading role in the legitimate stage production, "The Farmer Takes a Wife," upon her return to California.

Corsicana Chosen For Meeting Place Of Music Teachers

LUBBOCK, Dec. 3.—Corsicana was selected as the next convention city over Dallas here Saturday as the twenty-first convention of the Texas Music Teachers' Association came to a close.

Miss Roxy Grove, Waco, head of the music department, Baylor University, was re-elected president.

The feature of Saturday's session was the thirty observation, led by E. Clyde Whitlock, Fort Worth. A huge cake with twenty-one candles was sliced after the candles had been lighted.

Whitlock reviewed the progress of the association since a group of Fort Worth and Dallas teachers joined hands in May, 1915, to stage the first convention and to organize the association. Five members, including Whitlock, who were present at the first convention were here Saturday. The others were: E. G. Hatcher, E. G. Council, Harold Hart, Todd, Mrs. Irma Beck, all of Dallas.

Dr. Knapp speaks. "I think the engineer, the home economics student, in fact everyone has a right to learn about music to entertain themselves and their friends," Dr. Bradford Knapp, Lubbock, president of the Texas Technological College, speaker at the luncheon Saturday said.

A round table discussion of standard study courses for affiliated associations was held Saturday morning by Miss Mary Dunn of Lubbock. Isabel Hutcheson of Dallas discussed group work for piano teachers. J. Sam Will, teacher, accompanied by Mrs. Wray Austin, and Rollin Pease, baritone, University of Arizona, Tucson, presented musical interludes Saturday morning and Jeane contest winners entertained at the closing luncheon.

At the business session minor changes were adopted to the organization's constitution. The organization adopted the directors' recommendation for a proposed monthly publication to be known as the "Texas Music Teacher," the organization's official publication. The publication will be issued monthly, except during the summer, by Clyde Garrett of Dallas.

Instead of accepting the resignation from membership of Miss Grace Switzer, musical teacher for sixty-nine years and charter member of the organization, Miss Switzer was elected an honorary member.

The report of the secretary, Mrs. Roger C. Neely, Fort Worth, showed a present membership of 168 active and sixty-one associate members.

Other Officers. Besides re-electing Roxy Grove president, other officers and directors elected were: Mary Dunn, Lubbock, E. Clyde Whitlock of Fort Worth and Harold Hart Todd of Dallas, vice presidents; Mrs. C. Neely, Fort Worth, re-elected secretary; Carl Wiesemann of Dallas, Robert Hopkins of Waco, W. H. Hays of Jones of Denton, directors.

Robert Hopkins, Waco, chairman of the George B. Dealey contest, announced numbers for next year's contest as follows:

Each: Chopin Prelude, Opus 28, contestants to know both.

Violin, First Movement Concerto A Major, Mozart, and piece of own choice.

Female voice, Hindo Song, Beethoven, and piece of own choice.

Male voice, Sensuichi, Tachikowsky, and piece of choice.

Due to the distance and the weather conditions, Corsicana was not represented at the above convention, but a very neat and unique invitation signed by all members of the Corsicana Music and Speech Arts association, the mayor, the president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, president of the school board, superintendent and principal of the High School, was sent to the convention and met most favorably with the members.

Corsicana is quite proud of getting the convention here for 1935.

Card of Thanks. We wish to take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to our many Corsicana friends and loved ones who sent such lovely floral offerings for the funeral of our beloved daughter, Grace, whose tragic death in an automobile accident occurred recently at Denton, where she was a student at C. I. A., and for your solacing words of sympathy that have helped us bear our great sorrow.

We want our friends to know that Grace was not driving the car when the accident occurred, as some have thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Beauchamp, Arlington, Texas.

To Preach Here. Elder J. S. Newman will preach at the Primitive Baptist church, 520 South Sixteenth street, Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week. An invitation is extended the public to hear him.

Benton died less than an hour after the crash. Klem an hour later and Alexander three ours later.

Klem had taken several persons aloft on pleasure jaunts before the fatal flight. The landing field was lined with spectators when the ship crashed several hundred yards distant.

Herman Kelm, brother of the pilot, said the plane had been bought second hand and that his brother, who had been flying about four and a half months, had 100 flying hours to his credit.

Fatally injured were Manuel Klem, 24, of Littlefield, the pilot; John Alexander, 24, of Frederick, Okla., and James Benton, 26, living near Brownfield.

Ten minutes after the plane took off on a pleasure jaunt for its occupants, witnesses said it stalled at an altitude of about 200 or 300 feet and roared to earth. It struck the ground, bounced and skipped for several hundred feet.

BELIEVED MYSTERY OF THREE GIRLS IS FINALLY SOLVED

CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 30. (AP)—Positive identification of the man found dead in the Pennsylvania mountains as Elmo J. Noakes, of Roseville, Calif., was announced today by Harry L. McElroy, chief of detectives of the state police.

The man was found shot to death with a woman near Altoona, while three little girls believed to be his daughters were found in the woods near Carlisle.

Pennsylvania police were reluctant to advance a possible motive for the tragedy, though scouting several theories. Major C. M. Wilhelm, deputy superintendent of the state police, said he took but little stock in a theory that a love affair between the man and woman was the basis of the tragedy.

One possibility scouted, he said, is that a family disagreement existed, perhaps involving the custody of the children.

Identification was made through records of the marine corps at Washington, McElroy said.

Noakes enlisted in the marines at Mare Island, California, on April 20, 1920, and was honorably discharged April 19, 1922.

McElroy said marine corps fingerprints showed that those of the man found in the mountains and of Noakes were identical.

Through today's word from the marine corps, the belief of police that the five bodies were those of Noakes, his niece and his three daughters, all of Roseville, Calif., received additional weight.

The name of Noakes was brought into the investigation yesterday through discovery that an automobile found abandoned near McVegetown, about midway between the places at which the bodies of the girls and of Noakes and the woman, were found, had been licensed to Noakes.

Dates and Sites For Bi-District Games Scheduled.

DALLAS, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Dates and sites for six bi-district games in the Texas interscholastic football league had been selected today, but details on two other games had not been worked out.

Although the Masonic Home team of Fort Worth won a toss with Dallas Tech and elected to play at Fort Worth next Friday, Tech officials protested to league officials on the ground that no Dallas high school team could play an out-of-town game on a school day.

At the meeting Tuesday all pastors, lay leaders, district stewards, church stewards and others interested are to be present.

The meeting will be in charge of Dr. C. R. Gray, presiding elder, and plans for the year's work in the district will be outlined. At the woman's meeting prominent leaders in the conference will be present.

In spite of the downpour of rain at both the Sunday school and church hour, attendance held up very good, Sunday school attendance was as follows: Sunday 283, last Sunday 427, last year 440. D. G. Dunbar taught the Brotherhood class; Mrs. G. H. Love was the speaker in the adult; Ella Ruth Sims gave a reading in the senior young people's; Anna Mary Pierce was the leader in the high school and John McElwraith the leader in the junior young people's department.

Miss Kathleen Neal was the speaker at the League services. Rev. T. Edgar Neal preached at both church hours. Communion was observed at the morning hour by many. The monthly offering for the poor was made. The pastor's subject at the night hour was "Empty Boats." The choir brought special numbers at both hours.

It was announced that in place of the Brotherhood banquet for December, a banquet for all Sunday school officers, teachers and workers would be held Tuesday night, December 11, at 6:30 o'clock. Following the church night services Wednesday, the monthly meeting of the board of Christian education will be held and organization or the year will be made.

MAKING UP YOUR FACE

Make Your Face Pretty
If you want to know exactly how to make up your face, read Miss Forbes' suggestions to-day about types of make-up. If you want a good example in how not to make up your face, go any place where a dozen women are gathered, take a look at them and you will find out at once what not to do. The average woman buys cosmetics because she likes the outside of the boxes, with no real knowledge as to whether or the contents will suit her complexion or not.

For either day or evening make-up, the following things are essential: Cleansing cream, any kind at all just so it's light; astringent or skin tonic, strong if your face is flabby or wrinkled, mild if you are youngish. Then you want a foundation cream, which should be tinted. This comes in naturelle for dark skins, with pink in it for sallow skins, and white for evening, or for skin that needs toning down. After that you need a face powder of the perfect shade, not only for your skin but for the colors that you are going to wear; and besides this, rouge, lipstick, also eye shadow to tone, and mascara. This latter comes in black for dark eyes, brown for light eyes, and one which gives an odd and charming effect to blue eyes.

To give the best finish to your make-up, use cleansing cream first, and remove this by holding a hot towel over the face. Cool the skin and close the pores with the astringent or astringent. Wipe this off and then use it a second time over the face, and especially under the chin. Now use your foundation cream and spread it evenly over the face. Then apply the face powder by patting it on, give it time to blend with the foundation cream before you rub it in. Finally apply the rouge, spreading it high and towards the ears if you wish to broaden the face, slightly more towards the nose if you wish to narrow it.

Mr. S. S. L.—Fermentation in the digestive tract will cause the bloating and gas. You would not have the trouble, if you had perfect digestion and elimination. A continuous condition of this kind calls for a thorough cleansing of the system and careful handling of the diet afterward. It may be necessary to have a few colonic irrigations to get a cleaned digestive system. If that is not possible, there should be a cleansing by diet and the taking of plenty of citric fruit juices. Laxatives give relief, but they cannot be relied upon to give any real cleansing when the system or even the digestive tract is in a toxic state after months, or even years, of this condition have been poisoning the system.

BROTHERS RETURN FROM HUNT WITH TURKEY AND DEER

J. S. Parks of Corsicana, and his brother, W. M. Parks of Dallas, returned today from a hunting trip in Frio county, with their limit of deer and wild turkey gobblers. J. S. Parks killed the largest buck yet reported this season in Corsicana, and one which San Antonio authorities said was the largest they had seen this year. The buck had 20 points, and dressed 140 pounds. Mr. Parks' other buck was a pointer.

W. M. Parks killed two eight-point bucks. Together they killed six turkey gobblers, which weighed a total of 90 pounds. Mr. Parks said he and his brother went down Monday morning. He reported that hunting was excellent on the ranch which they visited, and that game was plentiful. Mr. Parks' three gobblers and two bucks caused considerable comment Saturday afternoon when they were shown in front of the Sun office, and several local hunters said the 20 point buck was the largest they had ever seen.
